

Yellow Submarine Risk Assessment Pack 2021 - 22

All assessments in this pack pertain to general risks associated with supporting young people at Short Breaks Activities. This is not an exhaustible list and is under constant review and development. Specific individuals, activities and venues are subject to separate assessment. Coronavirus specific measures are identified in a separate pack found here: <http://my.hdle.it/94268626>

Yellow Submarine recognises that risk is part of everyday life, and reasonable risk taking can have positive implications in young people's social and emotional development. By providing opportunities for young people to manage their own risks in a controlled environment, they will learn vital life skills needed for adulthood.

Whilst it is impossible to ever fully eliminate risk, it is possible to minimise and prepare for risk by preventative action. The following policy provides a structured approach to the management of risk.

Staff are expected to read and familiarise themselves with the following risk assessments. They must sign below to confirm that they have understood the risks and will comply with the control measures implemented.

Staff are responsible for reading any additional relevant risk assessments (individuals, activities or venues) before supporting at any given session.

Any breach of this will result in investigative and disciplinary procedure.

At every session, the team will be briefed by the Activity Leader. The following steps are taken before, during and after activities to reduce risk of incident at sessions.

Week Prior to Activity

Email all attendees with details of confirmed sessions

Pre-activity

Distribute t-shirts/lanyards to staff/volunteers as appropriate

Welcome any new starters - photograph ID and Basic Policies

Visual assessment of venue - is it fit and safe for use?

Display information posters if possible (Safeguarding; What to do in an Emergency; First Aiders; Our Commitments; Confidentiality)

Venue housekeeping:

- Fire exits and evacuation procedure
- Location of toilets
- Potential risks (e.g. stacked chairs/unlocked cupboards and doors)

Distribute grab sheets and refer to blue folders & allocate staff/volunteers to

Young People:

- Talk through key risks and noteworthy YP

- Signpost to risk assessments
- Ensure staff/volunteers are confident with their pairings

Identify Safeguarding Lead and First Aiders; who cannot be left unaccompanied?

Reiterate safeguarding procedure and openness to hear concern

Explain plans and outcomes for the day, identifying any potentially risky activities and risk assessments where necessary

Mobile phone policy/usage during a session

Emphasis on listening; offering choice; enthusiasm; encouragement

Debrief

Seek feedback on activities/structure; any issues and improvements?

Individual YP response to day; interactions; progression; challenges etc.

Any safeguarding concerns? Reiterate that anonymous feedback can be given via online feedback forms

Discuss any training needs

Take back grab sheets and take down posters if displayed

Support offered to staff/volunteers re. any incidents/disclosures

YS may seek permission to speak to schools or other providers to seek insight as to how best to support YP. An individual risk assessment may be implemented by YS. AL to identify YP with challenging behaviours during pre-brief; any known behaviours will be highlighted on grab sheets and RAs shared with staff/vols. Those with specific protocols will be paired with staff/vols familiar with their support needs and CONFIDENT in doing so. Those with complex behavioural needs may be supported on a 1:1 basis by an Enabler. This person must be fully aware and able to manage the individual's needs. YS operate a no restraint policy, unless YP are at immediate risk of harming themselves or others (e.g. running into a road). Staff/vols will use de-escalation techniques and bespoke support plans to keep YP safe. Where suitable staff are unavailable, regrettably YP will not be offered a place.	Risk Assessment reviewed annually or in response to need Staff/vols are encouraged to be proactive in their training needs. If they feel that specific training would be beneficial they should request this from their line manager.

Risk to YP/Staff and Vols: Choking Allergy/intolerance Dehydration/hunger	During the initial sign up process YS should be made aware of any issues surrounding food or eating. Information is sought from parents/carers, and protocols or management plans obtained where possible. YS may seek permission to speak to SaLT if there is involvement to seek insight as to how best to support YP. AL to identify those with issues surrounding eating (e.g. choke risk; allergies; intolerances; Prader Willi Syndrome, PICA) during pre-brief. YS staff/vols to be made aware if YP under their supervision have any risk associated with food; any issues surrounding food or eating will be highlighted on grab sheets. Allergy notices are held in activity files; First Aiders to be identified. When food is provided by YS, this will always be nut free. Staff/vols will serve food to promote portion control. Some YP may need prompts to drink enough or support opening packages. These YP are to be identified and offered additional support at mealtimes. Individual clinical risk assessments are in place, with protocols or managements plans if appropriate. If no specific protocol in place, staff to follow generic allergy protocol http://my.hdle.it/45517717. If YP has rescue medication, only staff trained in administration may do so.	Risk Assessment reviewed annually or in response to need

	If YP doesn't have sufficient food/fluids then YS will provide and inform parents where necessary. If this is a persistent problem then Safeguarding Lead to be notified. If YP choose not to eat their lunch, then alternatives should be offered (where possible) and negotiations take place. Under no circumstance should anyone be forced to eat meals - a full handover must be given to parents/carers. If this is a frequent occurrence then Safeguarding Lead to be made aware and support mechanisms implemented. Some YP may feel more comfortable eating separately from the main group; staff/vols will facilitate this. If YP wish to buy food, they will be supported by YS staff/vols if required. Staff and volunteers must ensure they eat and have enough fluids at sessions.

Hazard: Personal Care and Toileting

Who might be harmed and how?	Procedures in place to reduce risk	Is there more we can do to manage this risk?
Risk to YP: Abuse – physical or sexual Anxiety and emotional trauma Loss of dignity Wider risk: Allegations made against staff	During the initial assessment, any personal care needs to be identified by parents/carers. This may include: using the toilet; changing or dressing when swimming; bathing or showering (during residential trips) or support required when menstruating (referred to as SWM). Any personal care needs highlighted on grab sheets, using sensitive language. Only YS staff are to complete personal care, volunteers must seek assistance. This must be reiterated by AL in the shift brief. Only staff who feel comfortable/competent completing personal care should do so and YP allocated accordingly. In the unlikely event that this is not possible, staff should call the Safeguarding Lead to seek advice. The member’s needs must remain the priority and their dignity maintained during this time. They should be taken to a private space and offered reassurance. Where possible, personal care is to be completed by someone of the same gender. When this is not possible, it is accepted that cross gender care may be given – providing all procedures to reduce risk are adhered to. Those known to have incidences of diurnal enuresis (day time wetting) are encouraged to bring spare clothing. If personal care is required, the member of staff completing the care must notify another, so their whereabouts are known.	Risk Assessment reviewed annually or in response to need

	If the individual completing personal care is supporting other members, they must be handed over to another. Disabled (unisex) toilets should be used when available – radar keys are affixed to each minibus keyring. Village changing should be used where possible, as opposed to single sex changing rooms. Wipes, gloves (vinyl rather than Latex) and antibacterial gel must be available and used as required. Members (where possible) should give consent for personal care to be given. Members should be encouraged to be as self-sufficient as possible. Reminders are to be offered to individuals about appropriate behaviour in changing rooms etc. Whilst completing personal care, utmost privacy should be offered. Doors may be left slightly ajar, providing the member is screened. Letting the YP know what is happening is good practice; explain what is happening and how you are supporting them – whilst being aware that privacy/dignity is paramount. If the personal care offered is noteworthy or unusual for the individual, a full handover to be given to parents/carers. This must also be shared with the Safeguarding Lead.

Who might be harmed and how?	Procedures in place to reduce risk	Is there more we can do to manage this risk?
Risk to YP: Accident/injury or death Suffering a seizure Anxiety and emotional trauma	During the initial assessment, any medical conditions (e.g. Atlantoaxial Instability or Adrenaline Deficiency) which may be affected by physical activity or the increased level of risk associated, to be identified by parents/carers. Information is sought from parents/carers and clinical risk assessments completed by YS. Where appropriate, protocols are obtained from GPs. When a trip involves a higher risk activity, discussion is to be had with families prior to booking. If the risk is deemed too high, then YS may not offer YP a place on the activity. An additional activity specific risk assessment may be implemented by YS. AL to seek advice from the venue and ask for copies of their own risk assessments. These should be held in the activity file. Where these are lengthy, AL should highlight salient points and key information be shared during pre-brief. AL must ensure that any consent forms required by the venue are completed by parents/carers. YS must adhere to health and safety guidelines specified by the venue e.g. height restrictions. First Aiders and first aid point at venue to be identified. Specific activities such as climbing; sailing or zip wiring must be overseen by trained coaches/instructors. Coaches/instructors must not be left unsupervised with YP.	Risk Assessment reviewed annually or in response to need

	YS encourage YP to challenge themselves and participate in new experiences, but respect an individual's choice not to engage in an activity. This may necessitate reallocation of staff/vols/YP which the AL is responsible for overseeing. Staff/volunteers should only participate in activities they feel comfortable with; this should be taken into account when allocating pairings.
